

Roger Burg

Mr. Roger Burg is President of O'Malley Burg Consulting, a San Antonio based company that specializes in connecting industry with opportunity in the defense and government sectors in San Antonio, Texas. He also serves as Chairman of the Board of Directors for Corsair 360, an information technology firm based in Austin, Texas. General Burg currently serves on the Defense Science Board, Permanent Subcommittee on Nuclear Surety and as a Special Advisor on the U.S. Strategic Command Strategic Advisory Group.

General Burg retired from active duty in 2010 after 32 years of service in the Air Force. General Burg commanded ICBM and space units for over 10 years, including squadron, group, vice wing, wing, and Numbered Air Force. He also served in significant national security and international affairs positions, including Director of Nuclear Policy and Arms Control on the National Security Council, Director of Strategic Security on the Air Staff, and various leadership positions at US Strategic Command, US Space Command, and Strategic Air Command. His final active-duty position was commanding 20th Air Force, responsible for 10,000 airmen, three operational bases, and 500 deployed ICBMs.

Since retirement from active duty, General Burg has been active in the San Antonio community, serving as the President of the Board of Directors of Fisher House Incorporated, serving on the Board and then as Chairman of the Board of the First Tee of Greater San Antonio, and on the Board of Directors of Alamo FIRST.
